The Little Stone Chapel

The walls and floor are covered in Iron Mountain Slate, and the hand-hewn beams were carved from reclaimed utility poles erected near Roosevelt Lake in the early 1900s.

The Birdcage Theatre is a detailed replica of the original Birdcage Theater in Tombstone, Arizona. The floor is made from salvaged beams from the original Payson High School gymnasium and the tongue and groove doors contain no screws or nails. The enormous bar is handcrafted from oak, pine, poplar and maple.

The Grand Hotel is a tribute to the stately hotels of the late 1880's. The freestanding façade includes a spacious wooden deck.

The Wicked Saguaro Saloon recreates the atmosphere of the bars and taverns where cowboys and miners quenched their thirst. The saloon also contains an extensive collection of autographed western memorabilia from stars of the stage and screen.
